

| | |
|--|-----------------------|
| transferring pollen from one plant to another in order to fertilize the plant so it can create seeds | photosynthesis |
| an organism growing from a seed into a sprouting plant | pollination |
| leaves taking in sunlight, water, and carbon dioxide and transforming them into sugar and oxygen for the plant | new growth |
| when a bud on a plant's stem develops new leaves or flowers for the plant | water uptake |
| the roots of a plant absorbing water from the soil and sending it throughout the rest of the plant | germination |